"The team at Martyn Bassett was dedicated to ensuring the right candidate was placed in the role every step of the way. From taking the time to truly understand the unique requirements of the role, providing valuable guidance, to managing the interview process for several high quality candidates, they truly acted as a partner and provided immense support in a very successful placement for the role. The whole team was very positive, highly engaged and always a pleasure to work with, resulting in additional senior level searches in the future where we sought their support."
